The capital invested in woolen manufactures in Australia amounts to about £3,000,000 ($13,500,000), at prewar prices, and it gives employment to between 5,000 and 6,000 people. One company was recently organized at Melbourne with a capital of £500,000 ($2,250,000), about two-tifths of which represents English and the balance Australian interests.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the shood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inthrough the blood on the mucous sur-faces of the system, thus reducing the in-flammation and restoring normal condi-

Tones of Rust Turn to Brown

Color, always an important factor in fashlons, is claiming more than usual attention this season. This is practically the first time, notes a Paris fashion correspondent, that the Paris dresamaker has had an opportunity to launch absolutely postwar colors. Dur-ing the years that have succeeded the signing of the armistice it has been largely a question of using up stocks of both manufactured goods and raw materials. But throughout the seasons which have intervened the French manufacturer has had time to readjust himself to a new regime, so that what is being shown this winter as novelty is actually new. Hence the new col-ors appearing for 1921 are worthy of more than passing mention.

Strong, well determined and definite describe the tones shown on the color cards for next spring. The choice of the Paris dressmaker and milliner is equally well defined. Red is the present winter novelty, and it is anticipated that its favor will be increased in the spring. In the new red series rust shades still are immensely popular.

Rust Color Leads Into Brown.

These rust tones gradually lead to brown, a color in high favor and shown in a very large assortment of tones, running from the deepest so-called black browns into high shades that touch on russet and gold.

There is no reason wny red and brown ever should have been considered as belonging to the autumn and winter. They are infinitely more suitto wear in the springtime. When the little green buds are shooting forth on the trees and nature everywhere is putting on new dresses we feel that we must be in keeping with our surroundings by being clothed in fresh new raiment, and no color adapts itself so readily and so cheerfully to the mood of spring as bright, warm red. Nor does it eyer show off to greater advantage than in such a setting as the soft green of new foll-age. Later in the summer, when the streets are bot and dusty and the leaves parched and brown, red is not attractive.

Green is another claimant for fashion's favor and a big future is prophe-sied for it, particularly the dark bottle and olive shades.

In the new cotton materials for the coming summer greens are prominent. It is interesting to notice the exactness with which all the shades seen in sliks have been reproduced in cotton fabrics. There are lovely deep-green organdies, with shadow printings in lighter shades of the same color. Of course, this treatment is not confined to green, for the new cottons appear to have been successfully dyed in every hus under the sun, but much more is made of the green shades this year than for a long time past.

Navy Blue Loses Popularity.

Owing to the marked preference for the foregoing color blue is less important. In fact, there is a minimum of blue in the new color cards in proportion to the prominence of the above mentioned colors. It will not be easy for the American woman to depart from navy blue, which always has been a favorite with her. She has worn it so continuously that the navy blue dress or suit has become almost a national uniform. It will be refreshing to see a number of other colors. for the one great criticism of our dressing is that there is so little variety in it. Apparently every woman chooses the same color and the same model.

In laces, veilings and pattern veils the launching of these new colors is very pronounced. Lovely lace pattern vells in colors are being used by the smartest milliners. Manufacturers are looking forward to a big midwinter and early spring season on colored vells.

Feathers in Greens and Browns.

Costly feathers, such as paradise and aigrette and their imitations, are no longer in black, but must be in one of the new dark greens or browns. Preference is given for these colors in evening headdresses of metal fabrics, which show a combination of them in the weave. Deep emerald, singly or in combination with metal, is very popular for evening headdresses.

Prominent milliners are exploiting glowing red hats. Red shades enter into practically all embroidered designs. Lanvin is making a big feature of black and white and red, and everywhere is found the same evidence of marked preference for deep reds, rust color, dark browns and dark greens,

A coat dress or robe manteau by Cheruit developed in velours de laine is in the new Platane green. Note the drapery across the stomach and the fact that the dress is entirely of panels, one overlapping the other; also that there is a buttoned-on panel at the right side only, with no balancing panel at the left.

Robe Manteau Paris Perennial.

The type of dress known as the robe manteau has become a Paris perennial. It has proved so popular that dressmakers each season present new types of this character.

Cheruit has made stunning coat dresses in velours de laine. The model described above is one of her best numbers. It may be said to look exactly like a coat, except that across the front the skirt portion drapes slightly in the new wrinkled stomach effect and over this falls a soft rovers, or flep, thus making a simple and clever variation of the coat dress.

Mme. Jenny also is very successful with the robe manteau. She, too, makes it of velours de laine and trims it with fur, but keeps somewhat to the Russian type, though one notes also the slight introduction of the stomach drapery or wrinkled effect about this part of the body.

Jenny Model in Russian Effect

has the creased fullness drawn close over the stomach. At one side is a long sash of the cloth lined with a beautiful gray satin. Where the sash | line. is attached to the dress a buckle of carved shell is placed.

There is considerable discussion over long skirts, but about the only places where one actually sees them are the dressmaking establishments. Premet is among the dressmakers who stand out in favor of the long skirt. Some of her models are ankle length, Just to what extent women will accept these mature-looking gowns is yet to be determined.

A model of this character is developed in red lace and black satin. The novelty of the lace, as well as the form of the dress, adds to its interest. The lace is an all-over pattern and embroidered in gold threads. The low waistline girdle is made of flowers and beads

One of Jenny's models of this type are keeping to the somewhat convenis developed in dull red velours de tional type of evening dress—that is, laine and trimmed with moleskin. For the Slender Woman.

A slender woman would look lovely in a cream lace waist cut almost straight and lined throughout with crepe georgette dyed the exact shade of the suit with which she is going to wear the blouse. The neckline has a narrow piping of the crepe georgette and the waist fastens in front with tiny buttons covered with this same crepe georgette. Nothing can transform a simple tailored suit into a chic costume like this feminine garment.

New Corsage Effect.

One of the newest corsage effects shown is calla lilles of black velvet about which twine delicately tinted foliage terminating in rose-hued pet-

HAVE YOU A FIRELESS COOKER?

Any housekeeper in country or city cannot afford to be without a cooker.

The patented ones made to hold the heat for roasting and baking are of course the best, but one may make one from a box, a candy pall or an old trunk. The outside cover should be tight and the packing material, any packable nonconducting material, like paper, excelsior, cork, sawdust or even hay. In these days of economy a bale of hay was placed in the woodshed of one country woman, she cut out a place for a good-sized utensil with a tight cover, made a cushion of bay and used that home-made cooker all the season, then the cow ate it. Surely this is a good type of economy.

If a box or pail is to be used, pack the lining firmly around the utensil to be used. One which is tapering toward the bottom removes better from the well. Make a collar of cardboard to fit the top and leave space to slip the pall in and out easily. For a cushion use any of the above material. If the well or pocket to hold the pall is lined with asbestos paper it will save beat.

Cereal cooked in a fireless if one bas soapstones to put into the cooker or if not set into a dish containing boiling water, will be cooked much better, tastes better and is much more wholesome than the twenty minutes to a half hour usually given such dishes on the stove. Get the cereal cooking at night and when boiling hot put into the cooker. In the morning just reheating is all that is needed to serve a hot well-cooked food. The soapstone dish which may be used in the fireproof cookers increases the heat as ft can be heated hotter than the boiling point and when shut up in the cooker retains beat six to eight hours. Let it get very hot but not red, for fear of cracking. Place one at the bottom and one on top of a dish of meat and one may bake any roast to a turn. Brends, pies, puddings and cakes may be baked equally well.

When planning the meals for the week, the following may prove suggestive:

WHAT TO EAT.

Timbales of Chicken. Take one-half cupful of cream, whites of four eggs, one-half tablespoonful of truffles, fluely chopped, two cupfuls of cooked white ment of chicken, with salt and pepper to taste. Chop the meat very fine, and pound it to a smooth paste. Add the cream gradually. When well mixed, season and add the truffles. Then add, one at a time, the unbeaten whites of two of the eggs, mixing the first with the paste until it has disappeared before adding the second. Beat the remaining whites to a stiff froth and stir them carefully into the mixture. Fill greased timbale molds half full of the mixture, place in a pan of water-the water should come up as high as the mixture in the timbale and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with mushroom sauce.

Cabbage Imperial.—Trim and fold back three or four of the outside leaves of a firm head of cabbage. With a sharp knife remove the center, leaving only a thick wall. Take one cupful of cold ment well sensoned, one cupful of sliced potatoes, one cupful of sliced carrots and enough of the cabbage to fill the head. Add salt and pepper to taste and a few tables spoonfuls of butter. Press the mixture well into the cavity. Tie in a plece of cheese cloth and steam or cook in a small amount of water until the cabbage is tender. Cut in pleshaped pieces and serve on a platter.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influ-enza can be depended upon for full ef-fectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausen-less colomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and waskening effects of the old style calo-mel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully with-stand an attack and ward off pneumonia

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightall. No salts, no nausea nor the slight-est ifferference with your eating, pleas-ure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for break-fast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original scaled packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheer-fully refunded if you do not find them delightful,—(Adv.)
